A day in a life

This week in 'A day in a life' we're in Australia with the young actor Steven Perry. They're making a new series of everybody's favourite programme, 'Stay cool'.

It's half past six in the morning and in his hotel room Steven is getting up. He doesn't have to start filming until nine o'clock. So why does he have to get up so early?

It's now half past seven and here's the answer. He has to do his school work. Steven is only fourteen years old, so there's a teacher here for him and all the other young actors and actresses. They have to have their lessons before they start filming and between the different scenes.

It's now nine o'clock, but they can't start filming, because it's raining hard. So we have to wait. This is our chance to ask some questions.

Transcript for Listening 3

Interview with Steven Perry, a young actor from Australia

Interviewer: You work in the theatre and on TV. Are they very different?

Steven: Yes! When you make a TV programme, you don't have to learn all your lines. You only have to learn each scene. And you can always do the scene again. But in a play you have to remember all your lines, and you can't stop and say 'Sorry, can we do that again, please?'

Interviewer: So are TV programmes easier?

Steven: No. With films and TV programmes I often have to work outdoors, and it can sometimes be very cold or wet. With a play, I work in a nice, warm theatre.

And I can go home every night. I don't have to stay in a hotel.

Interviewer: Do you have to travel a lot?

Steven: Yes, I do for television. And that's very nice at first, but after a few weeks you just want to go home.

Transcript for Listening 4

The new classroom

Jasmine: Look guys, this year we are in a new classroom.

David: Wow! What a beautiful classroom!

Luka: And tell me, please, what on earth is beautiful about a classroom?

David: Look! We have got everything here. There are two computers. There's a printer. There's even a microscope. It's simply perfect.

Luka: Maybe, but there isn't a vending machine.

David: What? A vending machine?

Luka: Yes, in a perfect classroom there is a vending machine. And in the vending machine there are all sorts of drinks.

David: Why?

Luka: So we can drink something cold when we are thirsty.

Jasmine: You would probably like a bed, too, so you can rest when you are tired.

Luka: Yes, yes ... and a robot to write my tests.

David: Can't you be serious?

Luka: But I'm dead serious.

Melissa's budgerigar

Hello! My name's Melissa. My pet is a budgerigar. He's male and his name's Compo. That's C O M P O. He's about two years old now. He's green with a yellow face. I keep him in a cage in the living room. He can talk. He says 'Hello' and 'I'm a pretty boy'. My dad doesn't like him, because he's very noisy and he talks when my dad's watching television. Compo eats seed. I feed him every day and I put clean water in his water bottle. I clean his cage every Saturday.

Transcript for Listening 6

Peter's tarantula

Hi! I'm Peter. I've got a pet. It's a tarantula. She's female and her name's Betsy. That's B E T S Y, Betsy. She's quite young for a tarantula. They can live for twenty or thirty years, but Betsy's only five years old. I keep her in a tank in my bedroom. She eats insects, but she doesn't eat a lot. She only eats about six insects a week. I feed her every Wednesday and Saturday, but I give her clean water every day. A lot of people don't like tarantulas, but I think they're nice. They're very clean and they aren't noisy - not like my brother's hamster!

Dinner talk

It's seven o'clock in the evening. The Lennons are having dinner.

Ann: We are going on a school trip to London.

Dad: Great. When?

Ann: On Friday. We are going to visit the Queen's palace.

Rosie: I want to see the Queen and the prince and the dragon.

Bob: Rosie, there are no dragons.

Rosie: There are, there are, and they have got seven heads.

Bob: Yes, hundreds.

Ann: We are also going to a museum.

Rosie: What's a museum?

Mum: It's a place where you can see old things.

Ann: And we are going to the theatre.

Rosie: It's a place where you can see a play.

Bob: I'd like to see the London Eye.

Rosie: London has got E Y E S?

Bob: No, silly. It's the name of a big wheel. It goes round and round. It's on the River Thames.

Ann: The River Thames is a river in London. There are a lot of bridges over the Thames.

Rosie: I can sing a song about London Bridge: London Bridge is falling down, falling down, falling down, London Bridge is falling down, my fair lady!

Mum: Ha, ha. All right my fair lady. Eat up your fish now.

Reading 1

KANGAROOS

Kangaroos live in Australia and New Guinea. There are fifty-five kinds of kangaroos. Some are very small and some are really big. They all have big, strong legs, and they can all jump. The big red and grey kangaroos can jump nine metres in one jump. Kangaroos sleep during the day and look for food at night. They eat grass, leaves, and plants. A mother kangaroo has only one baby. It is called a ‘joey’. A baby kangaroo can’t see or hear. Its mother carries it around in a kind of pocket for the first eight months of its life.

THE SAHARA DESERT

The hottest place in the world is the Sahara desert in Africa. But there are deserts in many other places: in America, in Africa, in Asia and in Australia. In 1917 the temperature in Death Valley, in the United States, was 49° C every day for six weeks. That’s very hot!

But deserts are not always hot. After dark, deserts are very cold.

Not many animals and plants can live in deserts, because it doesn’t rain very often. But one animal likes the desert-the camel. It has big feet to walk on the sand. It can live for a long time without water. Sometimes it doesn’t drink anything for weeks – so it gets very thirsty! When it finds water it can drink 50 litres at a time.

Example: The Sahara desert is in Australia.

MY TOWN

Dear Stefan,

How are you? I'm fine!

Thank you for your letter! It's very interesting. Do you like living in a big town?

I live in a small town called Stromness, in northern Scotland.

I like living here. There aren't many people (and there aren't many trees!), but it's very beautiful.

You can see lots of interesting birds and animals here.

In December the days are very short. It's very cold, but it doesn't snow very often. I like the summer best. My favourite month is June, because it's warm, and because my birthday is in June. At the end of June the days are very long.

Write again soon, and tell me about your school.

Matthew

The hottest place in the world is the Sahara desert in Africa. But there are deserts in many other places: in America, in Africa, in Asia and in Australia. In 1917 the temperature in Death Valley, in the United States, was 49° C every day for six weeks. That's very hot!

But deserts are not always hot. After dark, deserts are very cold.

Not many animals and plants can live in deserts, because it doesn't rain very often. But one animal likes the desert-the camel. It has big feet to walk on the sand. It can live for a long time without water. Sometimes it doesn't drink anything for weeks – so it gets very thirsty! When it finds water it can drink 50 litres at a time.

Dear Stefan,

How are you? I'm fine!

Thank you for your letter! It's very interesting. Do you like living in a big town?

I live in a small town called Stromness, in northern Scotland.

I like living here. There aren't many people (and there aren't many trees!), but it's very beautiful.

You can see lots of interesting birds and animals here.

In December the days are very short. It's very cold, but it doesn't snow very often. I like the summer best. My favourite month is June, because it's warm, and because my birthday is in June. At the end of June the days are very long.

Write again soon, and tell me about your school.

The hottest place in the world is the Sahara desert in Africa. But there are deserts in many other places: in America, in Africa, in Asia and in Australia. In 1917 the temperature in Death Valley, in the United States, was 49° C every day for six weeks. That's very hot!

But deserts are not always hot. After dark, deserts are very cold.

Not many animals and plants can live in deserts, because it doesn't rain very often. But one animal likes the desert-the camel. It has big feet to walk on the sand. It can live for a long time without water. Sometimes it doesn't drink anything for weeks – so it gets very thirsty! When it finds water it can drink 50 litres at a time.
